Here are some additional documents we are working with Wyoming and Encana.

We had a status call with Encana and Wyoming this afternoon. The focus over the next week will be fleshing out the communications materials. I believe the plan would be to make an announcement the following week if possible.

Wyoming would like to do a joint press release (EPA and the State) as opposed to separate press releases. I think the joint release is preferable and indicated that to the State. Let me know whether you'd like to discuss. We tentatively agreed that the State would take a first crack at a joint release and we would have a call on Wednesday to review it and better nail down the overall package.

Have a good weekend.
